

BAD FAERIES

FAERIE TYPE PREVIEW

BROWNIE

Points: 15

Brownies are house faeries that can usually be found in and around any human made structures where it is believed they help keep the structure in tact.

The truth is brownies live in those places because it brings them closer to humans and their gardens and usually gives them first crack at the magic before the other faeries arrive.

Brownies will help keep the human home in good repair if their garden is a good source of magic but they will just as quickly cause a great deal of destruction if the human owners don't take care of their garden.

Special Rule, Rage: Brownies have notoriously short fuses making them prone to fits of rage. When this happens the brownie is often referred to as a boggart.

Anytime a brownie loses a point of being it must roll equal to or under its wariness statistic or enter a state of rage.

While in this state the brownie has a +2 modifier to its smacks statistic and a -2 modifier to its nimbleness statistic. These modifiers last until the end of the current round.
